

THE SIDNEY BUZZ

A Sidney High School Publication | September 28, 2017

TWO TEAMS - ONE CAUSE

Sidney and Piqua High Schools have worked together to raise awareness of colon cancer in honor of Michelle Garber, mother of Piqua senior volleyball player Navie Garber. Michelle has recently been diagnosed with colon cancer. Student leadership groups from both schools have been selling t-shirts to benefit the Upper Valley Cancer Care Center for Colon Research, as well as the Garber family.

T-shirts were sold prior to the Sidney vs. Piqua volleyball game last Wednesday, and anyone wearing a shirt got in free to the game. Big crowds from both schools showed up to support the cause, as well as their teams.

A check in the amount of $1,000 was presented to Michelle at last week's volleyball game. A second presentation will take place this Friday night at the Sidney vs. Piqua football game in Piqua, as the two communities come together to help defeat cancer.

SHS Student Government will continue to have t-shirts for sale in the cafeteria during lunch and in the SHS Athletic Office from 7:30am-2:30pm. Each t-shirt is $10.

All proceeds will go to the Upper Valley Cancer Care Center for Colon Research and the family to help their fight with the cost of treatments.

Sidney volleyball defeated Piqua last Wednesday, for their 10th straight victory; they went on to continue their winning streak against Stebbins the following night.

ELEMENTARY NIGHT

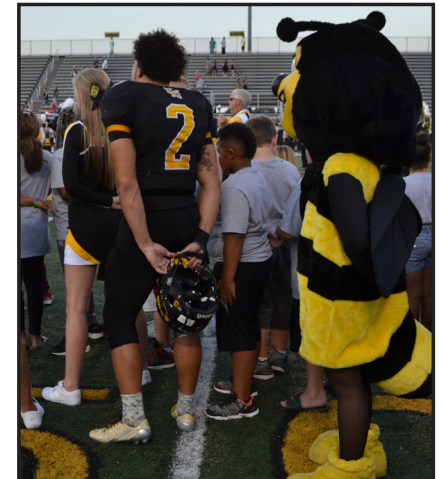

CAREER EXPO

Sidney High School Workforce Academy students took part in the Workforce Partnership's Career Exploration Academy at the Shelby County Fairgrounds last week. They learned about and experienced local career opportunities in Shelby County. With approximately 25 local businesses in attendance, students were exposed to a multitude of careers in their own backyards.

Last Friday, more than 600 students plus parent volunteers and staff were on the field for pre-game to cheer the Yellow Jackets onto the field and stand with the players for the National Anthem for 3rd annual Elementary Night, which allows elementary students and their families to attend the game at a discounted cost.

Follow Sidney City Schools on Facebook, Instagram and Twitter - @sidneyschools
Follow Sidney Athletics on Facebook and Twitter - @sidneyjackets